By trying out drama techniques in different languages:

You could better put yourself in the pupil's shoes.

It makes you realize that you sometimes start to make it difficult in your mind, but that you actually can engage the pupils with a really simple activity.

I hadn't expected that my teenagers of 14, 15 would do this with enthusiasm and also (say), 'Can we do this again?'

Augusto Boal:

“It is not the place of the theatre to show the correct path, but only to offer the means by which all possible paths may be examined.”
